Class Poem

by SANDRA BRUORTON and ELINOR HUTCHINSON

As we look back through our school years,
Our studies, memories past,
We know that we've gained knowledge
That through all years will last.

Although we don't expect to see
That all our dreams come true,
We do hope, though, that we can be
Good workers through and through.

To a new and brighter future,
Clear of hindrance in our way,
We look ahead with hope and faith
On graduation day.

We realize, when we reach this day,
The day of graduation,
The best years of our lives are past
And now we seek new stations.

We wish to thank the faculty
For all they've helped us here;
Because they've taught what we should know,
We've nothing now to fear.

We raise our heads with hopefulness,
To make a better world,
To achieve our tasks, and always help
Our people when in peril.

With sound of marching music,
Heard floating through open door,
Proudly, and with heads held high,
Goes our class of '54.

Class History

by JANE TEWKSBURY, ELAINE BATTLES, PHYLLIS WEBSTER

In September, 1942, thirty-three little darlings were deposited by their mothers at the door of Mrs. Davis, who taught the first grade, to start their cruise through twelve years of school.

One of our first experiences of discipline was when a chocolate bar was missing and we learned what it was to stay after school and have a private interview with the teacher. (P. S. Still a mystery.) Half way through the first grade, Mrs. Davis decided mail was preferable to these thirty-three little darlings and joined the Post Office in Bethel. Then Mrs. Norton finished with the A B C's to send us into Miss Kinville's room.

Here Jane Tewksbury learned about pushing buttons, when one of the boys dared her to push the fire alarm button. She still blushes at the thought of the crowd she drew.

By the time we sailed into the third grade room, with Mrs. Stokes as our teacher, we had some boys who were becoming daredevils. Ronnie Smith poked Janice's pig-tails into the ink well. He soon found out Mrs. Stokes knew how to poke, too! No one went out of this room without knowing his Roman numerals, thanks to the clock on the wall and Mrs. Stokes.

Miss Walbridge was our fourth grade teacher and she introduced us to geography and history.

We entered the fifth grade, with Mrs. Menard as our teacher. Some seemed to figure they had had enough history and geography, so they started dating. Two of our couples were Rane Cowdrey and David Billingham, and Carol Lewis and Kenneth Brooks.

In the sixth grade Miss Marshall taught us our fractions and introduced drawing and the use of water colors. We had a real disappointment at the end of this year when our class picnic had to be held in our room because of rain. History has it that Lois Rhoades had a terrific crush on Frank Patch this year.

We sailed into junior high knowing we were really somebodies! This was the year we started toward our goal which was attained in '54, first by putting on a play, "Whigs and Tories," (from which we made $7), and by giving our first big social. Mrs. Birchard proved to be a very helpful teacher this year.

Mrs. Gray was our eighth grade teacher. We had a very interesting project this year, which was writing to such well-known people as the President, various senators, famous movie stars and other notables. We finished our cruise through eight years of school by going to Lake Dunmore on our class picnic. Mr. Boright presented us our diplomas and gave us a very helpful talk in preparation for high school.

Ten of our original thirty-three entered high school together.

In September, 1949, we climbed the stairs to our last four years of school. Included in our class were ten students who had stayed through all eight grades and also nineteen out-of-town students. Outstanding events this year included David Billingham demonstrating how to diaper a baby, Mr. Lary jumping over a seat, and one of those nice picnics at Bear Hill. Mr. Murray and Mr. Bond were our advisers this year. Several of our new members became officers this year: President, Raymond Gray; Vice-President, David Billingham; Secretary, Janet LaRocque; Treasurer, Carol Lewis; Student Council, Beverly Paige and Robert Bowen.

We started our sophomore year successfully, winning the Halloween float prize for the second time. The English II B class went to Boston this year, and during the trip, Bob Bowen ripped his best suit pants. Good thing, Thelma Boudreau had a needle and thread along! Our Carnival play was a comedy, "Nobody Home." Mr. Bond and Mr. Barnes gave us guidance lessons this year. We wonder who learned more, we or they. We went to Lake Dunmore for our class picnic this year. Our officers for this year were President, David Billingham; Vice-President, Beverly Paige; Secretary, Joan Davis; Treasurer, Jane Tewksbury; Student Council, Shayne Tabor and William Kent.

As jolly juniors we were very busy. Joan Davis and Shirley Jarvis went to Girls' State; Philip Angell, Boys' State. Elaine Battles went to the Model U. N. General Assembly. We earned quite a lot by having dancing school and running the book store. Our carnival play was "Hired Girl." We won't forget how Peggy walked off stage without her manuscript. Janis Rogers gave a party for us after the play. For the third time, we went to Lake Dunmore at the end of the year for our class picnic. Our advisers this year were Mr. Bond and Mr. Barnes. The officers for this year were President, Richard Menard; Vice-President, Gilbert Tabor; Secretary, Carol Lewis; Treasurer, Phyllis Webster; Student Council members, Peggy Dalton and Raymond Gray.

Finally reaching our last year, we started it well by making $250 on our successful play, "Down to Earth." Laurie McGee had open house after the play. Our class advisers were Mr. Bond and Mrs. Perry. Our carnival play, "Dark Wind," was also a success this year. We finally won first place. Officers elected this year were President, Jerry Osha; Vice-President, Charles Rogers; Secretary, Carol Lewis; Treasurer, Shayne Tabor; Student Council, Elaine Battles and John McGee. Raymond Gray was president of the Student Council. The most important thing for us this year was our Senior Trip, which turned out to be a lot of fun regardless of those who were sick. Our chaperones were Mrs. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Bond, and Mrs. Stone.

As Commencement Week draws to an end, our minds turn toward the future and what it may hold. With these thoughts, and our pleasant memories of R.H.S., we draw this, our history, to a close.

Class Will

by MARILYN GIFFORD, STELLA BLANCHARD, LOUISE BRIGHAM

It is our sad duty to announce the decease of the one and only, honorable, envied, and intelligent class of 1954. While being of a sound mind and memory, we do, therefore, make, ordain, publish, and declare, this to be our last WILL AND TESTAMENT:

To our advisors, Mrs. Perry and Mr. Bond, we bequeath our appreciation for all that you have done for us through our four years of high school.

To the juniors we leave any money we have left in our bank account. (We know there won't be any.)

To the sophomores we leave our senior dignity.

To the freshmen we leave muzzles to keep them quiet for check-off in the morning.

To all of the teachers of the school we present this bottle of good humor gas. We are certain they will need it in dealing with the seniors who succeed us.

I, Marshall Armstrong, do will my dislike for women to Albert Collins.

I, Elaine Battles, do will my variety of boy friends to Nancy Hunt.

I, Stella Blanchard, do will my knowledge of the best parking spots to Lee Flint.

I, Thelma Boudreau, do will my ability to get to school early to Donna Camp.

I, Eleanor Braley, do will my ability to get good marks in shorthand to next year's shorthand class.

I, Louise Brigham, do will my bum leg to the junior cheerleaders so they can get into the games free.

I, Sandra Bruorton, do will my ability to act to all those in the next senior play.

I, Marlene Coffin, do will my place in front of the mirror in the girls' room to Carolyn Allen.

I, Rane Cowdrey, do will my sun lamp to Dorrene Norton.

I, Richard Day, do will my ability to sleep through classes to David Cook.

I, Joan Davis, do will my home near the Aggie School to the eighth grade girls.

I, Peggy Dalton, do will my ability to write letters in study hall to Shirley Bowen.

I, Bernard Duto, do will my curly hair to Elmer Archer so that he won't have to have another Toni.

I, Marilyn Gifford, do leave my unfinished typing to anyone who has nothing to do for the next year or two.

I, Lucy Gilman, do will my ability to lose my pocketbook to anyone who has an excess of money.

I, Raymond Gray, do will my ability to be true to my girl to Ronnie Howard.

I, Shirley Jarvis, do will my soft, delicate voice to Luther Tabor.

I, Mona Jones, do will my ability to go with a college man to any junior girl.

I, Carol Lewis, do bequeath my well-trained giggle to Dorothy Palmer in hopes that she will be as proficient in its use as I have been.

I, Sandra Morse, do will my ability to go steady to Sharon Tabor.

I, Elsie Morey, do will my ability to be seen and not heard to Stanley Dumont.

We, Laurie McGee and Ronald Smith, do will our ability to keep study halls from becoming monotonous to Lee Chadwick and Donald Murray.

I, Nancy Osha, do will my ability to be short to anyone who wants to sneak out of classes.

I, Jerry Osha, do will my dancing ability to Raymond Payette.

I, Ann Potuznick, do will my car to anyone who can keep it on the road.

I, Charles Rogers, do will my ability to be an angel to Clayton Carpenter.

I, Janis Rogers, do will my noisy manner to Wenona Waldo.

I, Lois Rhoades, do will my car to anyone who may have a substantial bankroll to keep it running.

I, Marie Savage, do will my license to the next year's driver training students.

I, Agnes Smith, do will my ability to get along with Mr. Parker in sociology to Cecile.

I, Emma Spooner, do will my diamond to any girl who is lucky enough to get it.

I, Mary Ann Stone, do will my pleasing personality to all the freshmen.

I, Gilbert Tabor, do will my ability to boast and bluff to anyone who will listen.

I, Shayne Tabor, do will my ability to keep everybody up all night to all the Tabors in high school.

I, Jane Tewksbury, do will my knowledge of "HOW TO WIN AND HOLD A MAN" to Phyllis Cowdrey.

We, Phyllis Webster and Elinor Hutchinson, do leave for the nearest church aisle.

Our modesty has forbidden us to list the hundred and one virtues and abilities which were the unique possessions of this famous, amiable, courteous, outstanding, obedient, studious, loyal, friendly, helpful, kind, lovable, clever, and cheerful class; the most talented, educated group of seniors ever to graduate from Randolph High School.

Class Prophecy

by GILBERT TABOR, MARY ANN STONE, SHAYNE TABOR

Prophet: Ladies and gentlemen of the reading public: I have here the latest edition of "Who's Who." After many years of research and proof-reading I have managed to complete this stupendous piece of work. I have been in the jungles of darkest Africa, in the Polar regions, on mountain peaks, across desert sands, on busy streets, in tall office buildings, under shady trees along country lanes—just everywhere to trace the footsteps of these wandering seniors. Now I have this biography-in-brief of their achievements and accomplishments since they left high school in 1954.

Shayne: I found that Ronnie Smith and Marshall Armstrong were still sitting on the steps of R.H.S. trying to decide what to do.

Mary Ann: What ever happened to Elaine Battles?

Gib: Elaine is married now and is working the day shift at Gifford Memorial Hospital.

Shayne: Say, have you seen Richard Day lately?

Mary Ann: Why, yes, he owns Day's Furniture Store and Eleanor Braley is his secretary.

Gibby: It must be Louise finally graduated from college.

Mary Ann: How do you know?

Gibby: It says here that she is an old maid with a million, made by saving her pay checks from her occupational therapy work.

Shayne: I also discovered that Stella and Melvin made a fortune when they built the first department store in Peth.

Mary Ann: It says here that Sandy Bruorton is in Michigan as a secretary to Henry Ford. Is that true?

Shayne: Yes, and have you heard about Thelma Boudreau? She is a life-guard in Florida.

Gibby: I see that Rane Cowdrey is still hunting for the perfect man but as a sidelight she works as a physical therapist. Where is Marlene Coffin these days?

Shayne: She has settled down to a nice quiet farm life in Massachusetts.

Mary Ann: Remember Bernard Duto? It's written here that he was the first man to drive around the world in a week in his Dutobug. Agnes Smith and Shirley Jarvis are his secretaries for the Dutomobile Company.

Gibby: From what I read, Elinor must have cooked another of her special recipes; for nurse's aide, Peggy Dalton, had a rush case at the Pete LaPerle home.

Shayne: Remember Joan Davis who lived near the Aggie School? She joined the WAF's to find herself a man but got stationed in Alaska.

Mary Ann: Vermont must be growing, for it says here that Lucy Gilman and her husband are living happily in their Beanville penthouse. What ever happened to Carol Lewis?

Gibby: From what I read she raised her own basketball team and is now coaching them. Also I see that Nancy Osha, on her trip around the world, ran into Charles Rogers, who had joined the Foreign Legion.

Shayne: I saw Laurie McGee in New York, selling the Bowery News, trying to raise money for a drink at the White Rose Bar, where Jerry Osha is the bartender.

Mary Ann: What is Sandy Morse up to these days?

Gibby: She now plays the role of a farmer's wife in the country, as she got sick of Boston. Where is Mona Jones?

Shayne: Well, she finally graduated from Beanville Academy for Physical Therapy and is now helping Johnny in their clinic. Marilyn Gifford is their medical secretary.

Gibby: I read that Elsie Morey married a man who manufactures platform shoes for short people and that Elsie is his best model. What ever happened to the girls who joined the service?

Shayne: Well, I found Lois Rhoades and Janis Rogers in Paris where they were stationed with the WAF's.

Mary Ann: I see Marie Savage finally drove her husband crazy with her jokes.

Gibby: Yes, and did you hear about Ann Potuznick? She sold her '42 Chevrolet to an antique dealer and made a fortune.

Mary Ann: The last time I saw Gib Tabor he had a car full of girls and was headed West.

Shayne: I met Jane and Ted in New York City, where they were racing down Broadway with a taxi driver in their Model T.

Mary Ann: Phyllis Webster and Emma Spooner soon turned their caps and gowns in for wedding gowns.

Mary Ann: That Shayne Tabor finally nailed down Duane long enough to marry him and they are now living happily in New York, where Duane plays in a band.

Gibby: Ha! Ha! The other day Carol's oldest girl came home and said Mary Ann had enrolled at R.H.S. for a PG course for the eighteenth time. Say, whatever happened to her steady, Ray?

Shayne: Hey, haven't you heard? He has started a Bachelors' Rest Home and is still waiting for her.

Mary Ann: Well, that's the story of the old gang. Wish we could see them all again.

Class Gifts

by JANIS ROGERS, SHIRLEY JARVIS and RONALD SMITH

Marshall Armstrong — Here is the bottle of gingerale the boys sent you after, which you never got, at the Hotel Bristol in New York. Was Mr. Bond waiting for you in the lobby?

Elaine Battles — Elaine has a yen for pets. She brought a chameleon from New York; then at All-State Festival, she bought a canary. At home, Elaine has a guinea pig, so here is a turtle to add to her collection.

Stella Blanchard — Stella, we know that you are anxious to get married but haven't received the ring yet. Here is one to keep until you get yours.

Thelma Boudreau — Here is an axe, Thelma. Someone told us that you like to chop down trees for a hobby.

Eleanor Braley — Eleanor, we recall that you got caught between traffic going both ways in New York. Here is a policeman's badge so you will have the right of way all the time.

Louise Brigham — Louise, since you're the only redhead in the senior class, we'd hate to see you lose the color as you grow old, so here is a box of flaming red hair dye.

Ranee Cowdrey — Ranee, since you have trouble shooting deer in the daytime, here is a flashlight so you can "jack" them at night.

Richard Day — We know you enjoyed your trip to New York very much. In case you would like to go back, here's a ticket.

Joan Davis — Joanie, here is a can of lubricating oil, so the gears of the car won't lock on the bridge and stall traffic again.

Peggy Dalton — We know you like to go riding. Here is a horse for Jerry so he can enjoy riding, too.

Bernard Duto — We hear that you are going to join the Navy to see the world. Well, here is a ticket to Bethel that will get you started.

Marlene Coffin — Marlene, here is a cow for your farm when you and Gaylon are married.

Sandra Bruorton — Sandy, a few of us have heard that your favorite drink lately is "coke." Could it be that a guy from Norwich University who goes by that name has something to do with it? Here is the "coke," for fond memories.

Lucy Gilman — Lucy, you have a car, a man, and a diamond, so we are giving you a house.

Marilyn Gifford — Marilyn, we know you like to travel, so here is an airplane all your own.

Raymond Gray — Ray, this small gas tank may help defray your expenses going from Albany to New Hampshire so you can see "Stonie."

Elinor Hutchinson — El, since your wedding is Saturday, here are some sleeping pills for you till then.

Shirley Jarvis — I hear that your main ambition is to be a tap dancer. Here are a pair of tap shoes to start you off right.

Mona Jones — "Jonesy," we thought you would like this '54 Ford convertible so you can run down and see John each week-end.

Carol Lewis — Carol, here is a check for $1,000 for you and Carlton, so you can start on your "Dream House."

Nancy Osha — Nancy, we know that you are looking for a special man, the same as all girls do. Here is a stepladder so you can see him coming.

Jerry Osha — Jerry, here is a helicopter, so you can get to North Randolph faster.

Charlie Rogers — Here is a sling shot, Charlie, so the next time you are "Coon Hunting," you can get him.

Sandra Morse — Sandy, here is a milking machine stool for you, so when you are home for a vacation from Boston you can go up to the Green Mountain Stock Farm and help "Huck" with the milking.

Elsie Morey — This is the whitest face powder we could find. The next time you blush that bright purple, we hope this will help.

Laurence McGee — Laurie, here is a package of Life Savers. You might need them if you are washed overboard in the Navy.

Ann Potuznick — Ann, seeing that you have only one gear left in your car, we thought we would get you a new one before yours fell apart.

Lois Rhoades — Lois, here is a little hot-rod all your own, so, if and when you go into the WAFS, you can get to Texas faster.

Janis Rogers — Jan, if you ever lose your good singing voice, here is a tuner to get you back on pitch.

Marie Savage — Marie, we know that you are always laughing, but in case you stop, here is a joke book to make that smile appear again.

Agnes Smith — Agnes, since you are going to work in the secretarial field, we know you will need a pen, so here is one to get you started.

Ronald Smith — Ronnie, here is an address book so you can keep all your peroxide blondes, redheads, and brunettes straight.

Emma Spooner — Emma, we heard you say you had everything for your home except a rolling pin, so we have purchased it for you. "Wes," you had better watch your step.

Mary Ann Stone — "Stonie," we hear that you and Ray frequently visit Magalsky's. You two must be interested in farm machinery. Here is a tractor so you won't have to go there any more.

Gilbert Tabor — You are always talking about the perfect woman you're looking for. We hope this one will take her place until you find one.

Shayne Tabor — Shayne, we know that you haven't a car of your own, so here is a motorcycle to go see Duane with.

Jane Tewksbury — Jane, here are some utensils for your hope chest so when you and Ted are "hitched," you can start your spring house cleaning right off.

Phyllis Webster — "Phyl," we thought you would like these flowers for your wedding veil. They are a rather poor substitute for the real orange blossoms, but we hope they will do.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Standing: Coach Hoffnagle, Jane Tewksbury — manager, Julie Milo, Katherine Hodgdon, Elinor Hutchinson, Jane Smith, Mary Chadwick, Eleanor Smith, Eleanor Barrett, Mona Jones — manager.

Seated on Floor: Elizabeth Sprague, Sharon Tabor.

Rancee Cowdrey receiving the Central Vermont League trophy on behalf of the girls' basketball team.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Seated (left to right): Lee Flint, Donald Murray, Michael Pierce, David Cook, Luther Tabor, Ronald Howard.

Standing: Gilbert Tabor, Raymond Hedding, Ronald Sanford, Monte Tabor, Philip Hannah, Ronald Greenwood, Eugene Shapiro, Coach Haines.

Seated on Floor: Clifford Prior, Laurence Monroe

CHEERLEADERS

Kneeling (front to back): Elsie Morey, Donna Camp, Cecile Voghell, Louise Brigham.

Girls' Basketball

The girls, coached by Miss Hoffnagle, had a very successful season. They had eleven wins and four losses. The losses went to Williamstown and Vergennes; both home games with these teams were lost by one point. The girls came out on top of the Central Vermont League, winning the first basketball cup since 1929.

The seniors leaving this year are Shayne Tabor, Ranee Cowdrey, Carol Lewis, Elinor Hutchinson, and Sandra Morse; but they leave behind a swell group of girls who hope to have as good a season next year.

Best wishes for a successful season.

Boys' Basketball

Although the boys did not break into the winning circle this year, they deserve a great deal of credit for their stick-to-it-iveness and fighting spirit. They started out with the handicap of the loss of many players due to graduation, but as the year progressed, marked improvement was shown. With this experience behind them they look forward to a good season next year.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders want to thank those who cheered at pep rallies and at the games, supporting R.H.S. Nancy Holman, who was the alternate, did a fine job and helped us out whenever we called. We all want to express our appreciation to Miss Johnson, who spent many hours trying to help us perfect our cheers. As our cheerleading adviser, she gave us valuable tips on timing and technique.

Baseball

Spring baseball opened with a large number of boys trying out, though some dropped out after the first dose of calisthenics.

The squad was not cut as usually is done because Mr. Haines thought it better to give everyone a chance. No first string was picked, but the starting lineup reads as follows: Ronald Howard, third base; Stanley Dumont, shortstop; Edward Conant or Eugene Shapiro, second base; Michael Pierce, first base; William Brigham or Raymond Hedding, left field; Donald Murray, center field; Raymond Payette, right field; Lee Flint and Clifford Prior on the mound; Luther Tabor and Ronald Greenwood behind the plate.

The record in the score book may not be good, but school spirit is still high. Baseball is a sport which improves with each cheer from the grandstand, so let's make sure that R.H.S. plays a top-notch spectator game.

School Safety Patrol

Members of School Safety Patrol are selected for their aptitude, dependability, interest in their task, popularity with their fellow students, and scholastic standing. Four boys stand at each intersection near the school, before and after classes, to guide the members of the student body in crossing the streets. These boys keep children on the sidewalk until traffic is halted or until the street is clear.

 Second Row: Raymond Payette, Ronald Howard, Edward Conant, William Brigham, Lee Flint, Wayne Flint, Michael Pierce.

SAFETY PATROL

 Standing, First Row: Clark Abel, Michael Pierce, Donald Murray, Philip Hannah, Eugene Shapiro, Raymond Sawyer.
 Second Row: Mr. Lewis, Lewis Chambers, Ronald Howard, Murlan Cooper, James Menard, Raymond Payette.

BUILDING PATROL

Standing: Janis Rogers, Marie Savage, Peggy Dalton, Shirley Jarvis, Mrs. Carpenter, Sandra Morse, Phyllis Webster, Jane Tewksbury, Thelma Boudreau.

FIRE PATROL

Seated (left to right): Raymond Gray, Janis Rogers, Sandra Morse, Thelma Boudreau.

Standing: Jerry Osha, Murlan Cooper, Marshall Armstrong, Gilbert Tabor, Luther Tabor.

Second Row: Bernard Duto, Laurence McGee, Ronald Smith, Charles Rogers.

Building Patrol

The building patrol consists of senior girls, captained by Emma Spooner and advised by Mrs. Carpenter. They do the different duties of the school which are corridor duty — keeping order in the corridors during school and the noon hour; desk duty — checking desks every other Friday; office duty — answering telephone in the Superintendent's office; stair duty — keeping students in single file when leaving school; and pulling the shades after school. Some of the girls also work with the fire patrol.

Fire Patrol

The fire patrol is made up of sixteen members. Each one has his own duty to perform. At the sound of the bell they go to their stations, two at each main entrance, one at each hose stand, and two on the landings to keep order on the stairs. Originally the fire patrol was made up of all senior boys, but this year as there were not enough, we had to ask four senior girls and two junior boys for some assistance.

Student Council

The Student Council is the governing body of Randolph High and Junior High School.

It is made up of the presidents of each class; two students, a boy and a girl, from the seventh and eighth grades and each class in high school; the president of the council, a senior, with Mr. Gaidys, and a faculty adviser, selected by the council, making up nineteen members.

It is the Student Council's duty to assemble at any time to solve problems confronting the student body. It sponsors the annual Carnival plays, sports, Gallopig Ghost Gazette, library, chooses majorettes and cheerleaders, and deals with many other problems.

Raymond Gray was the Student Council president this year; Elaine Battles, secretary; Mr. Gaidys and Miss Johnson were advisers.

Many of the members attended the annual two-day Student Council Convention at Rutland, November 21-22. It gave many new ideas for student - teacher relationships, school spirit, and student behavior. Another noteworthy event of the Council this year was the pep sessions which were held before home games. These were enjoyed by all the students and brought more to the games.

Gallopig Ghost Gazette

This year the Gallopig Ghost Gazette was published nine times. The staff was headed by seniors and made up of volunteers from the underclassmen. The editor-in-chief and the managing editor will be chosen from next year's senior class. Mary Ann Stone was the editor-in-chief this year; Mona Jones, the managing editor. We wish the classes in the years to come the best of luck with the Gazette, and hope they enjoy it as we did.

DEBATERS

Dramatics

The senior year was made to order for those who have a flair for acting. The Senior Play is first on the schedule and is put on in November, so work starts early in the school year. This year the seniors put on "Down to Earth," a three-act comedy about some rather "odd" angels, invisible to mortals, raising havoc as they hunt for souls to take back with them "up there." If the seniors got anything out of this performance, it proved the old saying, "a bad rehearsal means a good performance."

The next dramatic performance (scheduled) was the district contest play. Members from any class may participate in this. This year's cast put on "The Woman in the Freight Car," a drama taking place during the war years in a European country. They did not win the district contest but it was well received and they enjoyed doing it.

Last, but not least, is the annual Carnival of Plays. Each class puts on a one-act play, with a cup going to the winning play. The freshmen opened the program with "Make Room for Rodney," followed by the sophomores' "Mr. Vincent." The juniors put on "A Touch of Fancy." These three were comedies, but the seniors enjoy being different so they ended the program with "Dark Wind," a heavy drama. It did the trick, for the seniors won the cup.

Debating

This year our Randolph Debating Team won the state championship! Even though only a few debates were held during the season, two trophies now decorate study hall as a result of the last clash.

The tournament team consisted of Marjorie Shapiro and Veronica Owen, affirmative; Mary Laffan and Elaine Battles, negative. Marjorie received a scholarship to U.V.M. for earning second place speaker award.

Debating is certainly an important part of the school curriculum and everyone can benefit from participating in it.

Band

This year the band has been very active. It has held two joint concerts with South Royalton, the first of these being held in Randolph, the second in South Royalton. For the first time, this year a parade was held at Winooski Festival, in which this band participated. In addition to sending representatives to participate in All-State Festival, the band auditioned on Saturday.

The band is losing many of its members, so we hope to see many newcomers joining next year.

Orchestra

The orchestra meets once a week, for three-quarters of an hour, under the direction of Mr. Richard Ellis. There are about thirty members. The instruments needed most in the orchestra are violins. The orchestra plays at the annual Senior Play and Carnival Plays.

Orchestra is fun and it also counts one-fourth of a point towards graduation.

Choir

The Monday night choir group was started in 1952 with thirty members. Our first concert was at the Brookfield church just before Christmas. The next concert was given in the Episcopal church during Christmas vacation. Our third public appearance was at the Christian Brotherhood, where we sang several numbers. This new venture in the music department is rewarding to all who participate in it.

Chorus

The chorus, meeting on Mondays and Thursdays, gives all those who like to sing a chance to participate. Many hours of enjoyment come from singing together. Each year, from this group, students are sent to Winoski and All-State Festivals, where they not only have fun, but learn much about music.

Class Song

by JOAN DAVIS and RAYMOND GRAY

Tune: "Bells of St. Mary"

Dear school scenes we're leaving,
As classmates we part.
But always the memories
Will live in our heart.
We'll cherish the friendships
These twelve years have brought.
We'll live by the lessons
Our teachers have taught.

We'll treasure our school days,
Our classmates so dear.
We'll meet each new challenge
With minds strong and clear.
We hope for your blessing
As we walk life's ways.
And may we all remember long
Our high school days.
